BURNS AND BEECHER.

The following poem was written by Mrs. J. Webb, of Scotland, sixteen years ago, on the occasion of the appointment of Henry Ward Beecher to lecture at the celebration of Burns' 100th anniversary, January, 1859:

I learn the task has fa'n to you
To gie the Bard o' Ayre his due;
But use him weel;
He kept sweet Charity in view,
E'en for the De'il.

His few sma' fau'ts ye need na tell;
Folks say ye're no o'er guid yoursel';
But De'il may care;
Gin ye're but half as guid as Rob,
We'll ask na mair.

Then dinna seek to find a flaw;
But o'er his fau'ts a mantle thraw,
And leave the rest
To Him who made and tried the heart;
He kens the best.

A century hence and wha can tell
What may befa' yer cannie sel'?
Some holy preacher
May tak' the cudgels up for ane
Ca'd Harry Beecher.

I ha'e nae doubt ye'd like to ken
Wha 'tis that tak's the auld quill pen
To write this rhyme;
The knowledge wad be little worth—
I'm past my prime.

But when a lassie young and fair,
I've wandered aft by bonnie Ayr
Wi' heartsome glee—
Ere fate's stern mandate sent me forth,
Far o'er the sea.

Still, Scotia's hills and Scotia's plains,
Her poets and her poets' strains,
To me are dear—
A desert spring within my heart—
They claim a tear.

A LOVELY YOUNG WOMAN RAFFLED FOR AND WON.—One of the most novel, as well as exciting raffles that every took place in Seymour, came off on Saturday evening last. Miss Minnie Clarence made a novel proposition of putting herself up to be raffled off, at fifty cents a chance. In less than an hour every chance was taken, and heavy premiums were paid. Miss Minnie is a most bewitching beauty of eighteen summers, an orphan of respectable parentage, and a member of the best society of the State. She was decidedly the belle of Seymour, and was loved and admired by all who ever became acquainted with her. She is a bright blonde, perfect in form, fair complexion, and has most ravishingly beautiful eyes. Ever since she came to Seymour she has been the center of attraction. In justice to Miss Minnie, we should state that she gave the winner the privilege of accepting or refusing her, and reserved the same privilege for herself. The hour for the raffle came, and found all ready to try their luck. Miss Minnie was there in person, dressed in the hight of fashion, to lend a charm to the occasion. She stood leaning gracefully against a show-case, never speaking a word or betraying the least emotion, or showing the slightest preference for any of the contestants, excepting there was a preceptible twinkle in her beautiful eyes when some young and handsome "lovier" would shake the dice. Name after name was called, and each one in turn would shake the box with nervous hand, until all but three had thrown and nothing higher than thirty-eight had been thrown. Then came Lynn Falconer's turn. Lynn is a blonde himself, and a clever, hard-working young man, and perhaps the twinkle of her eyes nerved him to the work. At any rate he tossed the ivory with steady hand, and the scorer called forty-six. The other two throws were made amid too much excitement to even be counted, and the prize was awarded to Lynn. Minnie came forward and took Lynn's arm, and the two went out together, amid the cheers of the crowd. She accompained him to his father's hotel, where she was presented to his relatives.—Seymour, Ind., Star.

CLIMATIC CHANGES IN CALIFORNIA. Dr. Gibbons submitted the following observations on the theory that the climate of this coast is undergoing a change, at the last meeting of the Academy of Sciences in San Francisco: "An opinion prevails that the climate of California has changed since the American occupation, and that further settlement and occupation will produce further changes. It may be well to enquire whether this be probable or, indeed possible. The peculiar features of the climate of a country depend on two classes of causes, the one fixed and the other capable of change. The fixed causes are mountains and plains and permanent bodies of water. The changeable causes, such as man can modify or remove, are forests or the absence of forests, cultivation of the surface and drainage.

The climate of California depends mainly on fixed causes. We have on the east the Sierra Nevada mountains, presenting to the winds an almost impassable barrier. Hence east winds are almost unknown and will ever continue so. On the west we have the ocean, with a constant current from the north, bathing the coast with water of the temperature of 52 deg. at San Francisco. Winter or summer this is the same. At high tide the thermometer plunged into the bay at Meigg's warf shows this temperature in July as in January. Resting upon the ocean is therefore, a body of air always cold. It follows at all seasons, and under all circumstances, the sea breeze will have nearly the same temperature when it strikes the land. It is the great equalizer of temperature on the line of coast, and wherever it can penetrate. Where the coast is skirted with mountains, the ocean wind is walled out by the Sierra.

CURATIVE PROPERTIES OF GRAPES. That fruit is healthful to man and beast has been almost universally acknowledged in all ages and in all parts of the world; but that it is decidedly curative is a truth that is just dawning upon mankind. Grapes especially have been proven by invalids' experience—not by medical dissertations—to be not only harmless as food, but really medicinal. Persons troubled with irregular digestion, and in some cases confirmed dyspepties, have derived lasting benefit from a diet composed largely of grapes. Deranged livers and vitiated blood have also derived benefit from the use of grapes. Results like these have very naturally directed the observation of many to the effects of grape-eating upon the inhabitants of those countries where they form a considerable portion of food, and also to the effects upon animals.

These observations have apparently been confirmatory of previous impressions in favor of the curative properties of grapes; and with some this faith is so strong that a desire has been expressed to see a grape-cure established in California.

Physical Degeneration Caused by War.

Five million men are under arms in Europe. These five million men are said to include the very flower of the population, those the least liable to death under the natural and normal conditions of life; and it has been proved beyond doubt by army physicians, that in our military hospitals, as, for instance, in that of the Val de Grace at Paris, that the mortality of soldiers is double and treble that of the remainder of the population in civil life. How much of valuable labor does this system take away from the workshop, the hearth and the family? And during this time what becomes of the 5,000,000 women who ought to be the companions of these men, and of the families which should be the fruit of their marriages?

When throughout the surface of the civilized world, we see every year the return of Spring, and renovated life everywhere, then also, at the sound of the drum, and at the summons of the trumpet, the young men, our laboring youth, are called to present themselves, in each district, before the representatives of the central authority of the country. They come in parties with ribbon in their hats. These young men are but food for cannon, and those representatives of authority are only ordered to judge of the quality of the supply. And when they have them ranged like beasts for sale, they compel them to take off the garments which protect their modesty, and to do violence to their feelings of shame. They make them naked in each other's presence, like brutes. Then they examine them, they handle them, they turn them round, they open their mouths as if they were horses or dogs, in order to see their teeth, and finally they draw them up in two flocks like the sheep and goats in the gospel parable. On the one side are the robust, the handsome, the agile, those whose hands are clever in the use of tools, and whose vigorous blood is fitted to multiply upon earth a healthy and strong race; and on the other side are the weak, the lame, the maimed, the deaf, the one-eyed, all those who may be considered as the ones to be eliminated, (if it were permitted to use the term in speaking of the sacred subject of human nature.)

And all this accomplished, then the public authorities assume a grave countenance, and pronounce those youths, whom they have so carefully selected, as the best to be found "good for slaughter" (Bon pour Boucherie"). Yes, good for the slaughter of the battlefield, and for the deadly demoralization of the barracks.

And then they say to the others, to those whom they do not deem fit for the bullet or for the bayonet thrust, "You are good enough for marriage and for labor!" Alas! that such things should be done in this nineteenth century, and amongst the greatest nations in the world, amongst Europeans calling themselves civilized and Christian! These things show the reason why the population of France is not increasing, or, at least, why it increases so slowly. And yet we wonder at the misery and degradation of our populace, at their sufferings, and their vices.—Speech by M. Passy, of Paris.

SENATOR ANDREW JOHNSON.—Andrew Johnson spoke for an hour in Nashville after his election as United States Senator. He said: "In going back to the Senate I shall have no personal fights to engage in, but shall serve the people in the future as in the past. We are drifting from first principles, and instead of the people running the Government, the Government is now running the people. [A voice—"How about Louisiana?" If I had been President at the time of the late military interference in New Orleans, I would have sent that little man Sheridan to the Department of the Missouri, as I did under similar circumstances in 1866. [Tremendous applause.] In 1866 General Thomas telegraphed General Grant that he had been applied to for assistance to aid in securing the attendance of a quorum in the Tennessee Legislature. I was in Washington then, and when the dispatch came to me I ordered Grant to answer Thomas that the military had no right to interfere with the State Legislature, and that he should refrain from interference at that time. When I talk about democracy I talk about constitutional democracy, not that based on mere party hacks, and that sort of democracy I expect to indorse until I die. But, my countrymen, let us be patient, thoughtful and reflective. We have a great work before us—that of saving our country from centralization. I consider the country in more danger now than at any time in the past."

ACTION OF THE ILLINOIS ASSEMBLY.—On joint vote the Illinois Legislature has 94 Republicans, 80 Democrats and 30 Independents. The Republicans are 16 in the minority. In the Assembly there are: Democrats, 56, Independents, 27; Republicans, 70; a Republican minority of 13. On the 27th of January, in the Assembly, some resolutions were offered and voted on in relation to Louisiana affairs. First—Denouncing unconstitutional Federal interference in State matters. This one was adopted—132 to 7. The second pictures the military power as fraught with danger, declaring it especially dangerous for military officers to dictate to the President or Congress measures that would place any State under military control, and condemning such military officer. This was adopted—77 to 62. The third condemns unlawful organizations in any State. This went through—137 to 1. The fourth condemns the President for upholding the Kellogg government against tho expressed will of the people of Louisiana, and for sending troops to interfere with and break up a Legislature. On this the vote was 75 to 67. In every case the Independents assisted in carrying the resolutions.—Union.

THE GRANGES.—Some of our exchanges are trying to figure up the annual revenues of the Society of Patrons of Husbandry. A correspondent of the Chicago Times makes the following estimate: "Initiation fees alone paid up to July last amounted to $6,000,000. The monthly dues yield $2,400,000 per annum. The six-cent quarterly dues to State Granges aggregate $480,000 per annum; in addition to which, large sums are derived from charters and dispensations. What precise sum the national Grange has now actually on hand we are unable to state, but it must, we should think, be a large amount."

A COMPARISON.—The hills and fields of California are and have been all winter covered with emerald green; geraniums, fuschias and the various flowers are blooming in the open air in our gardens and door yards; all the plains and valleys of the State are covered with a luxurious growth of wheat, green and flourishing as in May in the older States; the weather is mild as April, and the merry sunshine gladdens all the Pacific Coast. How different it is beyond the Sierras and the Rocky Mountains, where biting frosts, cold, piercing winds, and deep, driving snows have been the order of the day from Maine to Montana, from New Hampshire to Nebraska, and from centre to circumference. Twenty to thirty degrees below zero has been the range of the thermometer East and West. The St. Louis Globe of the 10th gives a table of the range of temperature for a week, showing it to have been from one to twenty degrees below zero each day. It says the Mississippi is "frozen solid from Cairo to St. Paul, while the ice is coming in from the Ohio and running heavily below Cairo." On Friday, the 8th, the coldest day of the week, which was the severest weather there for many years, the thermometer marked twenty-one degrees below zero on the bridge crossing the Mississippi—that is, fifty-three degrees below the freezing point. The Globe remarks in this connection: "The terrible weather of the week has been productive of untold misery and suffering among the poor, of which class St. Louis now has a greater proportion than ever before. There are many poor widows with small children, and others worse than widows, because of drunken, worthless husbands, who are without food, fuel or money. How they live the Lord only knows."

What a contrast is here presented between St. Louis—one of the most solid and flourishing cities of the Union—and San Francisco, which is full to overflowing with all the necessaries and luxuries of life, whose denizens enjoy the mildest and most equable climate in the Union.—S. F. Call.

MORE RADICAL RASCALITY.—Owing to the continued absence of Collector Arthur at Washington, the Report prepared by his Assistant Collector, Mr. Phelps, has not yet been submitted. It is said that the Report will be severe in its reflections upon the conduct of several of the Custom-house officers who board steamers on their arrival in this port. Suspicions have existed for a long time past that a system of smuggling was carried on with the knowledge of certain officers. None of the names, however, are yet made public. Appraiser Darling is still at Washington, but is expected to return to-day. He has also, it is said, some important information to impart to Collector Arthur as soon as he returns, which will show that the detected irregularities of the customs officers will foot up to fully $1,000,000. It is thought that when the matter has been fully laid before the Collector he will not attempt to conceal the facts connected with the case, as the names of the parties must come to light sooner or later. General Sharpe returned from Washington yesterday, but he refused to be seen by any one. Gen. Sharpe, together with Collector Arthur, Appraiser Darling and other officials, were summoned to Washington at the request of the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Bristow. It is said that the head of each department in the customs had previously been instructed to prepare a formal statement setting forth the names of all those employed there, together with their qualifications and the length of time they have been in the service. It has been known for some time past that Mr. Bristow insisted on making a great reduction of the force of men in the Custom-house, and a large number of the men who have held sinecures are fearful of losing them. Each of the heads of the departments is anxious to retain the men in his immediate service, and there is an effort making by each for this purpose.—World.

THE JURY IN THE BEECHER SUIT. The jury is above the average of the American citizens who are called ordinarily into cases like this. Idiocy has not been sought for. The aim has been to get men of intelligence, fair-minded and capable of approaching the decision of this case without bias. Five of the jury are Presbyterians, one active, the others "occasionals;" two are Roman Catholics, one is a Methodist, one an Episcopalian, one Lutheran and two have no church relations. They have a severe and trying duty to perform, not less in the absolute importance of the case than in the fact that the trial promises to be long and tedious. The lists are now set for real battle upon the decision of which so many millions of men are interested. There is no place on the globe where our language is spoken, that has not anxious spectators of this trial. Public opinion is divided and the result is almost impatiently awaited. Ruin must befall one or the other of the parties. There is no intermediate landing place. Paramount to all other considerations is the development of the absolute truth of this case, and nothing short of a thorough and complete investigation will suffice. To this a Judge of learning and integrity, counsel of ability, and the parties litigant are alike pledged.

THE LATE STORM IN YOSEMITE VALLEY.—Fred Leidig, a resident of Yosemite valley, speaking of the late storm there, says in a communication to the Mariposa Gazette: After about six weeks of clear, cold weather, we had a storm amounting to about 25 inches of the "beautiful snow," and following that, on the night of the 17th it commenced to rain, and in 48 hours 43 inches of water had fallen, and it appeared that the flood-gates of heaven had burst loose. To witness the snow, ice, water and mud tumble over the Yosemite Falls was a sight worth seeing; but notwithstanding the awful grandeur I could not behold the scene with any special degree of admiration, for the river was rising so rapidly that an inundation of the hotel premises was severely threatened, and the preservation of my wife and five children was at that time uppermost in my mind. The construction of a raft was suggested, and other modes of escape were in contemplation when the rain ceased and our hearts became glad by the appearance of "Old Sol," who, when he enters an appearance in the valley in the Winter season, makes it the Paradise of the Sierra Nevada.

The Siege of Moulton.

[From the New York Graphic.]

The audience has ceased to regard Tilton and Beecher as the chief figures in the contest. It is the attack on Moulton which now holds the breathless attention of every spectator. The trial has thus early reached a point where everyone recognizes that the overthrow of Moulton is the supreme necessity of the defendant. One of two things must be true: either Moulton is a perjurer or Beecher is an adulterer. For a whole week the lawyers of the defendant have bent all their energies to crushing Moulton. Every man in the audience is waiting to see if Moulton endures the attack unscathed. Evarts and Tracy are watched more eagerly than Beecher and Mrs. Tilton. Moulton has pushed Tilton into the background. Frank Carpenter comes and goes unnoticed.

The attack upon Moulton was begun by Judge Porter. After two days he was withdrawn. How was it the reports of gun trials used to read? "After firing 150 rounds the gun showed signs of weakness, and the firing was discontinued." General Tracey was then put forward, and for four successive days he has bombarded Moulton with every species of missile. To watch the attack on this man, the coolness with which he withstands it and the skill with which his lawyers fight in his behalf, is to witness a more exciting drama than any other that ever challenged the wrath of Talmage.

Moulton sits coolly and easily in his chair. He looks like a man who perfectly comprehends the situation and is master of it. He is never betrayed into an instant of carelessness. He is impervious to sarcasm and insult—as far beyond the possibility of being stung into an indiscretion as are the remote and passionless stars. Tracy impresses you by his appearance as a man clear-headed and strong-willed—a persistent, wily and dangerous opponent. After you have heard him question Moulton for half an hour you decide that you are mistaken, and that Tracey owes his reputation to the accident of his aggressive nose and cautious eyes.

Close by Tracey sits Evarts, chafing like a leashed greyhound. Instead of "materializing" disreputable pirates, the Spiritualists ought to materialize Evarts. The man is pure intellect, with a mere suggestion of flesh and bones. He is obviously exasperated by the inability of Tracey to make any impression upon Moulton. He twists his shadowy legs one over another, and nervously opens and shuts the thin fingers that serve as punctuation marks when he addresses the Court. He sometimes turns quickly to Tracy and stops him in some question that he has half way put. Or he suddenly breaks in with a question of his own, flashed at Moulton like a rapier thrust—and usually shivered on the armor of the witness.

Whenever the other side makes an objection or takes any part in the proceedings, Evarts is on his feet in an instant, with his long forefinger pointed at the Judge, and his cold keen voice stabbing Fullerton and Beach and Morris, and sometimes the Judge himself. The impression which Evarts makes is that of a man hampered by his position and his associates, and chafing intolerably under the restraint. You look to see him suddenly brush Tracy and Shearman behind him, putting them out of existence with a superb sweep of his disdainful arm, and announce: "This is my case, and I will fight and win it myself."

A BOLD ROBBERY.—Last night at half-past 8 o'clock, while Market street was thronged with people, a young man about 20 years of age, approached the window of the Dime Savings Bank, on the north side of Market street, between Montgomery and Kearny, and with a brick mashed a pane of glass. As soon as he did that he thrust his hand through the broken pane and abstracted a $1,000 package of greenbacks which was lying in the window. He then ran across Market street into Annie street, a small lane west of the Palace Hotel, and disappeared in the darkness. The larceny was witnessed by an elderly gentleman and a young man who were in the bank. The young man jumped over the counter and followed the thief, but was unable to catch up with him. This is one of the boldest crimes committed in this city for a long time.—S. F. Call.

AWAY WITH PHIL. SHERIDAN.—All our readers know, says the Mobile Register, that Mr. Lawrence Barrett passed through Mobile, with his full company on Sunday night last. On Monday night he opened at the Varieties Theatre, in his unqualified personage of Richelieu, when a feeling incident "not on the bills" occurred. The grand old Cardinal returns the sword to Francois with the words

"Take away the sword, States can be saved without it."

No sooner had Mr. Barrett's grand voice rolled out the sentiment than its perfect patness to the situation struck the house. The seats were all filled with the "banditti;" and with one spontaneous impulse every person in the house joined in loud, long and enthusiastic applause.

A FAITHFUL WIFE.—In the New York Bay Cemetery is a tomb, and within rests a metallic coffin and an easy-chair. Twice a week there comes to this chair a middle-aged lady, who quietly unbolts the iron door, seats herself in the easy-chair at the head of the coffin, and mentally converses, as she thinks, with the dead husband who lies by her side. The constancy has been persisted in during the past eight years. So accustomed are the keepers and workmen at the cemetery to her coming, than they now think no more of it than of any other regular occurrence of every-day life. The husband died while on a visit to California, and was sent back to his wife in the metallic coffin in which the body now lies. The features are said to be as natural as on the day of his death.

A recently patented automatic lock is about to be placed on the door of a Fulton county bank vault. The lock is so constructed that it can be unlocked by no person except during banking hours. The lock was purposely invented to obviate bank officials from being taken from their beds at night and compelled to open their vaults by burglars, as has been frequently done in many parts of the country. The lock is said to be no longer an experiment.

A NOSE GRAFTED UPON A NOSELESS MAN.—Dr. H. B. Livermore, assisted by Dr. B. R. Westfall and P. H. Delaney, Sunday last, in this city, performed one of the most remarkable operations ever undertaken in this county, and probably in the State. The feat was nothing less than providing a flesh and blood nose for a young man who had lost that organ. In brief, the circumstances are as follows: The subject is a son of Uriah Cline, a farmer living a few miles south of this place. When two years of age his nose was entirely bitten off by a dog, leaving two unsightly holes in his face—the nostrils uncovered. He is now eighteen and in the constant humiliation of his deformity he applied to the doctor, who is eminent in surgery, to know if he could in any way help him. The case was examined, and after due consideration an operation was decided upon—the mode of procedure something like the following; A nose, cast in putty, was made to fit the deformed organ; over this was placed a paper which was cut an exact pattern. When all was ready the operation proper began. The young man was placed under the influence of chloroform. The pattern, two and a-half by three and three-quarter inches at widest parts, was laid upon the forehead and outlined by iodine. The skin inside this area was taken out, left fast at the lower end, between the eyebrows; it was then pulled down, turned upon itself, shaped into the form of a nose, nostrils being cut, and a piece brought down to make the division between them, and grafted, as it were, in the upper lip. In the meantime, the sides where the nose was to grow had been freshened by cutting. The stitching was done, the place in the forehead where the skin was removed from which the nose was manufactured attended to, and the operation was complete. Four days have passed, and the patient is getting along finely, the healing is also getting along rapidly, and unless something unforeseen occurs, ere long the unfortunate young man will be blessed with a very respectable nose, a few scars only testifying to the wonderful operation.—Macomb (Ill.) Journal.

THE DAYS OF '49.—Many of our readers, more especially those who were residents here during the stirring times of '49 and '50, will no doubt recollect the circumstances chronicled by the California press, of the "man with the wheelbarrow," who started from St. Jo, on his long and weary way across the "Plains," with absolutely nothing but his blankets, a few pounds of cheese and crackers, braved the triple dangers (at that time so iminent even to armed trains crossing the "Weary Waste") of starvation, thirst and the attacks of the red savages of the plains. What he saw and what he edured, during the trip of 3,000 miles till he reached Carson City, is summed up in the few words he said to us in relating the events of his journey:

"I was utterly tired out and exhausted when I reached Carson City, that by the "Great United States, this is played out," I cared not whether I lived or died, as I had reached the El Dorado, of my dreams when I was in "Happy, merry old England." I had a few dollars in my pocket, but I was down in health; in fact, I had not an ounce of spare flesh on my bones, and it was over a year before I recovered from the hardships I had undergone on the trip."

The man who undertook and accomplished this unparalleled feat, is an Englishman named Crosby, resident of this city, and is now employed by A. P. Voorhees, on Georgia street. He is a small man, but full of that energy which knew no rest until the end was reached and the desired object accomplished. It is to be regretted that the "silent partner" of his travels—the wheelbarrow—has not been preserved to exhibit to the unbelievers.—Vallejo Independent.

THE OPPORTUNITY.—There is an opportunity for the Democratic party to come forward now and take in its hands the government of the country for a long term. When we say the Democratic party we do not mean the mongrel thing that for so many years past has been acting under that name, and which in many essential points can with difficulty be distinguished from its opponent; but we mean that grand old party—the party whose greatest exponent was Thomas Jefferson. If the Democratic party of the present day will raise again the old standard, come back to first principles and proclaim an undeviating adherence to them; declare again unequivocally for the right of local rule, and for the least possible government; declare the best possible government; declare unrelenting hostility to a standing army, to an expensive navy, to national banks, to the subsidy system in all its forms, and to internal improvements at Federal expense, and will drum out of its ranks every man who cannot give a full and unequivocal adhesion to these principles and is not prepared to carry them into practice to the furthermost extent, it will sweep the country. The party professing and acting upon these principles is the party with which the great masses of the nation are desirous to vote.—S. F. Post.

HEALTH DEPENDENT ON COOKERY. So say the promoters of the schools of cookery, and they are undoubtedly right. Cooking is both an art and a science. For its progress as an art we are not greatly concerned, although the medical profession would undoubtedly suffer in pocket should fine-art cookery go out of fashion. "Elegant" dishes are generally whited sepulchres, and the forerunners of blue pills and other disagreeable correctives. We hope then that these schools will busy themselves mainly in imparting a knowledge of the scientific principles of cooking, and will teach their cooks that the quality par excellence which all food should have is wholesomeness. Those unfortunate people who spend their days in dark office chambers, or consulting rooms, and keep their noses everlastingly upon their respective grindstones, seldom know that good digestion which should wait on appitite. Hitherto their dinners have not been so skillfully prepared as to demand the least possible effort from a jaded stomach; but let us hope that the national disgrace of indigestion will no longer dim the brightness of our hospitality, and the number of patent medicines which are sold so largely in this country as aids to digestion will undergo a rapid diminution.

NO CHANGES.—A late Washington dispatch states that the rumors as to Cabinet changes are entirely without foundation.

ANOTHER SURVEY. — The Central Pacific Benicia and Red Bluff surveying party are now encamped near the railroad depot, being engaged in running a line up the valley about four miles west of this place.

PLEASANT.—The weather the past week has been delightfully pleasant. Crops are growing finely, and a very large harvest is looked forward to with reasonable hopes. Seeding is all done, the area put into wheat exceeding that of any previous year.

BEECHER-TILTON. — The telegraph informs us that this trial is still progressing and is daily attended by crowds of spectators and listeners. At last accounts Tilton occupied the witness stand, and Evarts was plying him to find out his connection with "the Woodhull."

MR. COIL'S RANCH.—A correspondent of the Sacramento Agriculturalist, writing from this county, mentions the splendid ranch of Mr. Chas. Coil, one of Yolo's best farmers, his crop prospects, blooded sheep, etc. as follows:

"Your correspondent is again on the wing, having been compelled to lay by on account of the storm. I arrived at Knights Landing from Woodland, yesterday, and find the grain crops very promising. On my way I stopped at the ranch of Mr. Chas. Coil, about two miles from Woodland. This gentlemen has 800 acres of Summer fallow, which is as fine a field as I have seen. He is putting in 400 acres of wheat and 100 acres of barley, making in all 1,300 acres, which makes a very respectable sized field. This energetic farmer has some very fine grade sheep—100 ewes from Vermont, that will lamb next month, a buck worth $3,000, and about 80 lambs, nine months old, the finest I ever saw.

Preparing for a Third Term.

As this is a question that more or less interests every person in the country, and one that will doubtless cause a great deal of discussion between now and the time for another election, we copy the following article from the Vallejo Independent as very nearly embodying our views of the situation and of the plans of Grant and the Administration party:

"It has been evident ever since the fall elections of 1874, that the Administration relies for future success upon the manufacture of Southern outrages, and the control of the Southern States by the use of the Army. It hopes by the skillful manipulation of the material furnished by the Southern outrage mills to kindle a new the spirit evoked by the rebellion, and thus secure the blind support of a majority of the people in the North. There is only one element of success wanting to this scheme. It is the complete absence of hostility to the United States Government in any of the Southern States. No where has there been the slightest manifestion of a disposition to offer resistance to the enforcement of laws of Congress or the orders of the Administration. On the contrary, the testimony is, that as bitterly opposed as the people are, and have been, to what they consider fraudulent State governments, and as much as they have writhed under the oppression of carpet-bag governments, they have always shown respect to Federal authority. This is unfortunate for the Administration's policy, which would be greatly assisted by any act which could be construed into rebellion against Federal authority. It is difficult to fire the Northern heart without it.

"The plot for carrying the Southern States is developing more rapidly than is desirable perhaps, in consequence of the fact that the House of Representatives will pass from under Republican control after the present session, and it is therefore necessary to hasten the enactment of such laws as will enable the President to act independently of Congress for the next two years. Hence it is proposed to give him power to suspend the writ of habeas corpus in several States, and to appropriate enough money to run the army for two years.

"The programme agreed upon by the leaders is made plain by recent developements. First Louisiana is to be kept under Kellogg's thumb so that, through the instrumentality of his Returning Board, he can cast the electoral vote of his State for the Republican candidate regardless of the result of the election. Secondly, Arkansas is to be taken out of the hands of the people, and placed back under carpet-bag rule with the notorious Brooks for Governor, so as to swing it all right in 1876. Thirdly, the President is to be enabled, by suspending the writ of hebeas corpus, and placing the people under military rule at the proper moment, to carry the States of North Carolina, Florida, Georgia and Alabama; and while doing this the North is to be carried by keeping the outrage mill grinding, and making it appear that the South is on the point of a second rebellion.

"To all this we may add that there are strong indications that Grant still intends to be a candidate for a third term. While he has never declared himself a candidate in direct terms, he has done so conditionally, by saying that he left the matter with the people; and the vote taken in Congress, on Monday, clearly shows that his candidacy is anticipated, and that it will be supported by the Republican leaders. Speer moved to suspend the rules and adopt a resolution declaring the judgment of the House against the election of a President for a third term, as opposed to the tradition of the country and hazardous to the liberties of the people. The motion was lost—yeas 57; noes 102. All the yeas, with one exception, were Democrats, and all the nays Republicans. It thus appears that the Republicans are almost a unit against declaring themselves opposed to a third term, and every one knows that they voted thus because they anticipated that Grant would be a candidate again."

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, THAT unless the taxes delinquent, together with the costs and percentage due thereon, as appears in the foregoing list, are paid, I will sell at Public Auction, in front of the County Court House of said County, in the Town of Woodland, on TUESDAY, the TWENTY-THIRD day of FEBRUARY, 1875, at 10 o'clock A.M., the Real Property upon which such taxes are a lien.

Dated, Jan, 28th, 1875.

J. A. HILLER,
fe5-td Tax-Collector of Yolo Co., Cal.

MILLINERY AND DRESSMAKING.

NEW ESTABLISHMENT.

MRS. & MISS PORTER

having purchased the stock and business of Mmes. WILLIARD AND PHILLIPS in the above line, desire to inform the public of the fact, and at the same time solicit the patronage of the Ladies of Woodland and vicinity.

A New Stock of Millinery

Has already been added, so that we can supply anything in that line promptly, and we believe to the satisfaction of everyone who calls upon us. We shall aim to keep the latest styles of goods, and sell them at reasonable prices.

Dressmaking

Will also be a prominent feature with us, in which we feel confident we can please both in style and prices.

Agents for Butterick's Patterns.

The ladies are respectfully invited to give us a call, examine our goods and leave their orders.

MRS. W. W. PORTER & CO.
Woodland, Sept. 11th, 1873. de12-3m

PAY UP.

As I am making my arrangements to leave Yolo County shortly, all persons indebted to the firm of READ & WELCH, either by note or book account, are requested to come forward at once and settle. I will make my headquarters at Simpson's drug store during the next thirty days for that purpose, and all matters of the firm not settled during that time will be handed over for collection forthwith.

Board of Supervisors.

Board met on Monday last, members all present. Session continued three days.

Report of Viewers of S. P. Barnes road found to be defective and matter dismissed.

Bids for grading road west from Rupley's corner to Brown's track, were—Gallup Bros., $315; T. J. Hutchinson, $344.50; A. J. & Benj. Holland, $315; J. M. Cofer, $295. Contract awarded J. M. Cofer—to be completed within thirty days. Surveyor to set stakes in accordance with plans.

The bids for graveling Brown road rejected and ordered that proposals be advertised for to gravel said road 15 feet wide and 4 inches deep a distance of 275 rods from Brown's corner.

Reports of Treasurer and Auditor received and filed.

Allowance to Mrs. Lodge ordered thereafter suspended.

The following taxes, having been doubly assessed, were refunded: W. L. Anderson, poll tax $3; H. H. Knappe, poll tax, $3; T. B. Hurlbut, poll tax, $3; J. A. Hiller, $12 57; A. Henley, $12 09; J. Silva, $6 40.

Mrs. Dollarhide allowed $50 for clothing child and contract revoked.

Ordered that the Clerk advertise for proposals for building the road across the mountains to the Quicksilver Mines. Supervisor J. K. Smith and Mering appointed to confer with Dist. Attorney and draft bond for completion of road on west side of summit; also, to confer parties on the other side; also with the aid of County Surveyor to draft plans and specifications.

Report on Oak Vale road objected to by J. C. Ball for contestants, and rejected on account of informalities.

Petition for location of Davisville and South Putah road, accompanied by bond, was received, and Surveyor L. Friel, W. D. Wristen and H. H. Scott appointed Viewers to report Feb. 20th.

Report of J. K. Smith that bridge across Willow slough at Bullards was was finished, the same was accepted and warrant on contingent fund ordered in favor of J. W. Tilley, for $316 in payment.

On motion of J. K. Smith Stephen Howard was given permission to move a dead body from near his premises.

In matter of proposed road from Jas. St. Louis to Nelson's bridge, Clerk ordered to refer Road Master of that district to order in Book 1 of Roads, page 71.

Bill presented by John Morgan, Deputy Coroner, objected to by Deputy Coroner Tucker.

Board selected a list of jurors.

Petition in matter of Rath road, with bond, accepted; Surveyor L. Friel, J. T. Hadley and E. Harley appointed viewers.

CALLED A HALT.—A disagreement between the Faculty and the Trustees of Hesperian College this week which resulted in a suspension of operations for a day or two. The matter has been arranged however, and all is going on as though nothing had happend. We trust it will result in a better understanding hereafter and redound to the good of the institution and all concerned.

WHITE HOUSE IMPROVEMENT.—We have visited this week A. Alexander's "White House" Dry Goods and Clothing Store. He has just completed the 40-foot addition to the rear of the store, making the whole depth 125 feet. Mr. Alexander has spared no expense in fitting it up, and has the stock of goods therein so arranged that the ladies' department is entirely separated from the gents' department, altogether making it the finest, as well as the largest dry goods house in town. Mr. Alexander, as will be seen by his advertisement, will for the next 60 days sell off the entire fall stock, consisting of dry goods, clothings, boots and shoes, etc., at greatly reduced rates, to make preparations and room for Spring goods.

PERSONAL.—I will meet you at Kierski's pick out a Valentine for G. and B.; for he has such a large Variety to pick from. Besides, he delivers them free of charge—and "Mum" is the word with him. HARRY.

CAUCUS.—On Tuesday last the Democratic Senators at Washington held a conference upon the political situation, agreeing, after a pretty free interchange of views, upon the necessity of the Democrats being on the alert for the remainder of the session, but no definite line of action was determined upon, as it was concluded best to wait until the Radicals developed their plans.

EPISCOPAL.—There will be Episcopal services at Templar Hall next Sunday at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M., to which the public are invited.

NEW FENCE.—Mr. Chandler is preparing to erect a new fence on the north side of Court street in front of his property.

GRAVELED.—Sixth street between Maine and Court streets has just been graveled which makes a nice street of it.

COME TO TIME.—Read & Welch, as will be seen by their card, give a few more days of grace to those who are indebted to them, after which all unsettled accounts will be placed in a way for speedy collection, which will necessarily involve costs.

SHOULD BE SEEN TO.—Quite a number of the trees set in the school lot last year died and ought to be replaced before the season is too far advanced. Will the Trustees see to this? The cost will be light.

FINE ANIMALS.—Mr. Hiram S. Brown of this county has just received by overland railroad from Missouri a beautiful roadster stallion and a very fine Kentucky Jack for breeding purposes.

M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.—The quarterly meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church South will be held at Knights Landing Saturday and Sunday next, the 13th and 14th insts.

NEW STREET IMPROVEMENTS.—Fourth street, from Maine to North street, has just been graded and made ready for graveling except a portion of the distance on one side.

REPAIRING.—The Cal. P. R. R. sent up a steam pile driver and a quantity of piles to repair and strengthen the wharf and elevator at Knights Landing last week.

NARROW GAUGE.—The canvassers are now out above and below this place. We hope before our next issue to hear a report from them.

FALLING.—The Sacramento river at Knights Landing has fallen 5 feet since the last rise. It is now about 7 feet above low water mark.

HORSE AND JACK POSTERS.—We are prepared to print this kind of posters on short notice and at reasonable prices. Now's the time.

Matrimonial Alliance Proposed—$200 Reward.

BY A DAVISVILLE LUNATIC.

Having just completed my education at one of the large Lunatic Assylums of this State, I am very anxious to become acquainted with a lady who is possessed of the hereinafter mentioned qualifications and accomplishments, and for which the above reward will be paid in gold coin or greenbacks.

I wish it perfectly understood that money is no object whatever, as my fortune is thought to be equal to my mental capacity. The young lady must be thirty years in height and six feet ten inches of age. She must be short winded, so that she can not be successful as a crusader. She must also be good-looking at the top of the left hand side of the upper lip, and at the back of her head which she must carry under her arm. She must wear a little tall hat turned upside down, with long sleeves at the bottom. She cannot have a Grecian bend, as I am very much opposed to fictions founded upon facts. Her clothing must be of the best quality, made out of second-hand umberellas, cobwebs, and sawdust. She must be wide awake when sound asleep, and say strange things when not speaking. She must walk backward when going forward, and leave one eye behind to see that the other does not follow.

Some time prior to marriage her parents must see that she is fed daily on fishing rods, old shoes, and cast off chignons, so as to bring her up to the standard of elegance and refinement which I absolutely require. It is necessary that her complexion should be stormy, turned up at the edges, and ornamented with frog horns and red hot snow balls. She must also have a hump on one side of her nose, and be swallow-tailed on the other. Her voice must be thick-rimmed, a yard wide, and ready at any moment to break forth with unabatable fury. Her finger ends must be armed with pitchforks and broomsticks, so as to be enabled to leave the marks of her affection on her liege lord's head when he comes home after hours two sheets in the wind and another filling. Her music and singing must squint both ways, be lop-sided, and worn out at the elbows.

And, furthermore, let it be stated so that no misunderstanding may take place, that her tongue must be twelve inches long, (which is somewhat shorter than the average,) hung on a swivel and leaded at both ends. She must speak eleven languages—Chinese and Dutch included. She must be limber-toed, knock-kneed, and low shouldered in the left foot, smoke cigars and chew tobacco. In fact, her education must be such that she will be the very acme of gentleness and captivation.

In conclusion I will repeat that the reward above mentioned will be paid upon the introduction of the undersigned, (should it end in matrimony,) to any beauty who will answer the description. Address

X. MCCRACKEN, Davisville.

RELIGOUS MEETINGS AT KNIGHTS LANDING.—The Methodist Church South had a series of meetings at Knights Landing, ending last Friday. Rev. W. Burris, of Davisville, assisted Rev. Gruell. Much religious interest was manifested, and thirteen converts united with the church. This denomination has a beautiful church building in the town, the congregations are large and appreciative, and their membership is the largest in the place and growing, showing a healthy and prosperous religious organization.

A SPECIAL dispatch to the Government from the Army Head-quarters before Estella states that a desperate fight has taken place. Alfonso having taken Estella and captured many prisoners. Both sides lost heavily. The Carlist chiefs, Mendires and Argonoz, were killed by their own men, being charged with treason. Don Carlos, with his army have retreated toward Vigna.

A Triumph Over Humbug.

It is not difficult to alarm the timid, and invalids are proverbially so. Aware of this fact, the venders of pseudo bitters, "entirely free from alcohol," have raised a false cry against tonic preparations containing spirits and no doubt have frightened a few sick folks into purchasing the fermented rubbish which they sell, and which is infinitely more injurious than the vilest drams drunk at tavern bars. But already a tremendous reaction has set in against these abominable nostrums, which, being devoid of the alcoholic basis which alone prevents liquid botanic preparation from turning sour, decompose almost as soon as made. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has lived and will live down multitudes of such impostures. A regular recurrence of the demand for the great alterative invigorant from those who have always been its patrons, shows that they have not swerved in their time-honored allegiance to America's most popular remedy; and a constant influx of new orders demonstrates how little impression, after all, the blatant denunciations of the mock bitters, men have made upon the general public. So long as Hostetter's Bitters continue to cure and prevent intermittent and remittent fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney disease, and the numerous other ailments to which they are adapted, they will continue to dominate the factious opposition of humbugs, and that will be just as long as they are manufactured and sold. Be it known unto all bogus nostrum venders, of every degree of audacity and knavery, that they can ever hope to puff themselves into public favor at the expense of Hostetter's Bitters, the reputation of which is founded as it were, upon a rock. fe5

The "SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,"

Now in its 30th year, enjoys the widest circulation of any weekly newspaper of the kind in the world. A new volume commences January 4, 1875.

Its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the World: Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings, of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice, by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts.

The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is the cheapest and best illustrated weekly paper published. Every number contains from 10 to 15 original engravings of new machinery and novel inventions.

ENGRAVINGS, illustrating Improvements, Discoveries, and Important Works, pertaining to civil and Mechanical Engineering, Milling, Mining and Metallurgy; Records of the latest progress in the applications of Steam; Steam Engineering, Railways, Ship Building, Navigation, Telegraphy, Telegraph Engineering, Electricity, Magnetism, Light and Heat.

FARMERS, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, Teachers, Clergymen, Lawyers and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College, Academy, or School.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. The practical receipts are well worth ten times the subscription price. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars and Specimens sent free. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, Messrs. MUNN & Co., are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New inventions and sketches examined and advice free. A special notice is made in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN of all Inventions Patented through this agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. Send for Pamphlet, 110 pages, containing laws and full directions for obtaining Patents.

THE SUN,

WEEKLY AND DAILY FOR 1875.

The approach of the Presidential election gives unusual importance to the events and developments of 1875. We shall endeavor to describe them fully, faithfully and fearlessly.

THE WEEKLY SUN has now attained a circulation of over seventy thousand copies. Its readers are found in every State and Territory, and its quality is well known to the public. We shall not only endeavor to keep it fully up to its old standard, but to improve and add to its variety and power.

THE WEEKLY SUN will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of moment, and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and instructive manner.

It is our aim to make the WEEKLY SUN the best family newspaper in the world. It will be full of entertaining and appropriate reading of every sort, but will print nothing to offend the most scrupulous and delicate taste. It will always contain the most interesting stories and romances of the day, carefully selected and legibly printed.

The Agricultural department is a prominent feature in the WEEKLY SUN, and its articles will always be found fresh and useful to the farmer.

The number of men independent in politics is increasing, and the WEEKLY SUN is their paper especially. It belongs to no party, and obeys no dictation, contending for principle, and for the election of the best men. It exposes the corruption that disgraces the country and threatens the overthrow of republican institutions. It has no fear of knaves, and seeks no favors from their supporters.

The markets of every kind and the fashions are regularly reported in its columns.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN is one dollar a year for a sheet of eight pages, and fifty-six columns. As this barely pays the expenses of paper and printing, we are not able to make any discount or allow any premium to friends who may make special efforts to extend its circulation. Under the new law, which requires payment of postage in advance, one dollar a year, with twenty cents the cost of prepaid postage added, is the rate of subscription. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have the WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Anyone who sends one dollar and twenty cents will get the paper, post-paid, for a year.

We have no traveling agents.

The WEEKLY SUN.—Eight pages, fifty-six columns. Only $1.20 a year, postage paid. No discounts from this rate.

The DAILY SUN.—A large four-page newspaper of twenty-eight columns. Daily circulation over 130,000. All the news for 2 cents. Subscription, postage prepaid 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year. To clubs of 10 or over, a discount of 20 per cent. Address,

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1874.

A Book for Boys and Girls.

Of this book CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER writes:

"In the bound volume of ST. NICHOLAS, with its glory of red and gold, we have a permanent addition to the literature of the young. Never before has so much literary and artistic talent co-operated in the service of children. It is a continual educator of their taste and of their honor and courage. I do not see how it can be made any better, and if the children don't like it I think it is time to change the kind of children in this country."

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1875.

The prospectus of the second volume shows that there is to be no falling off, but an increase in its literary and pictorial attractions. Among other attractive features are

TWO SPLENDID SERIAL STORIES.

"The Young Surveyor,"

by J. T. TROWBRIDGE, author of the Jack Hazard Stories, etc.

"EIGHT COUSINS,"

by LOUISA M. ALCOTT, author of "Little Women, etc.

The peculiar features of ST. NICHOLAS, which have conduced so largely to its popularity, will be kept up with spirit:

Short and easy stories in FRENCH, GERMAN AND LATIN for translation, will appear occasionally; while JACK-IN-THE-PULPIT, THE LETTER BOX, and THE RIDDLE BOX, will continue to be full of interest, and the department for very young readers will be enlarged.

BAYARD TAYLOR and other distinguished travelers will give Stories of Foreign Countries.

MR. HIDEING will continue his series of delightful and instructive Papers on Practical Subjects.

MR. BARTLETT and others will attend to the department of Home Entertainments, Tableaux Vivants, etc.

New writers, in addition to our present large corps of contributors, will give young people of all ages, Poems, Jingles, Stories, Sketches and Papers on History, Biography, Travel, Adventure, Natural History, Out-door and In-door Sports, Boys' and Girl's Handicraft, Kinder-garten Games, Literature, Popular Science, with a hearty sprinkling of fun throughout the volume.

Price, THREE DOLLARS A YEAR, but up to January 1st we will send the TWELVE NUMBERS from the year just closed (Vol. I.) FOR ONLY TWO DOLLARS. The same, elegantly bound in red and gold will be sent, charges paid, for FOUR DOLLARS.

One year's subscription and twelve back numbers, FIVE DOLLARS. One year, subscription and Volume I, bound as above, sent, CHARGES PAID, FOR SIX DOLLARS.

All Postages will be Prepaid by us.

ON the 26th of January a mob of armed Mexicans attacked the Protestant Church in Acapulco, and drove the minister on board an American man-of-war in the harbor. The mob was promptly put down by General Mejia with Government troops.

MR. ALTWOOD, a rich old bachelor, died recently near Chester, England, and it now appears that he was the giver of all the anonymous £1,000 checks which have caused so much speculation. He gave about £350,000 away in this fashion—£45,000 within the last year.

THE city of New York contains not more than one million of inhabitants. The tax levy this year for State and municipal purposes is $41,000,000; and including Brooklyn, Jersey City and other dependencies, it reaches $44,000,000 for a total population not over 1,750,000.

VICE PRESIDENT WILSON is credited with having said, "The country is as one hundred to one against us in this matter, and unless some prompt measures are taken to correct the mistake that has been made in the Louisiana question, the Republican party will suffer irreparable injury."

THE Springfield Republican has its rational intervals, as witness the following: "If two-thirds of the American newspapers were forced to cut down their size 25 to 50 per cent., and put the same matter into the reduced space, it would be an occasion of rejoicing both for their creditors and their readers."

ON Wednesday Feb. 3d, Creed Haymond moved for and was granted a writ of review of the proceedings of the Board of Education in changing the text books in the public schools. The proceedings were had before Judge Ramage, who ordered the writ as prayed for returnable March 3d. This will bring the text book question up for judicial consideration.

CARPENTER of Wisconsin, another press-gang, back-pay, Kellogg-advocating Senator, must follow blood letting Chandler to retirement. On Wednesday last a Democrat, Angus Cameron, was elected Senator on a platform which includes hard money, a tariff for revenue only, and the supremacy of the civil authority in times of peace.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL WILLIAMS appeared before the select committee on Alabama Affairs in Washington February 7th, and was interrogated as to his sending troops into Alabama last fall. It appeared that he had had no correspondence with the Governor of the State on the subject, but acted upon information from other sources.

ONE of the largest wine producers of the State says that its product on in 1874, exceeds by fully forty per cent that of any previous year, and that the wine is of a good quality. He says that the grapes were extremely juicy and a large number of new vineyards came into bearing during the year, all of which contributed to the increased and favorable results.

THE highest building in the world, public or private, is that recently erected for its offices in New York by the Western Union Telegraph Company. Its main portion is only 46 feet lower than the top of Bunker Hill Monument, while its clock tower reaches to a height of 6 feet above that structure, or 226 feet clear, and its flagstaff pierces the air still higher by a reach of 60 feet.

A Representative and Champion of American Art Taste!

Prospectus for 1875---8th year.

THE ALDINE,

THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA,

ISSUED MONTHLY.

"A MAGNIFICENT CONCEPTION WONDERFULLY CARRIED OUT."

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists, has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. The successive failures which so invariably followed each attempt in this country to establish an art journal, did not prove the indifference of the people of America to the claims of high art. So soon as a proper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public at once rallied with enthusiasm to its support, and the result was a great artistic and commercial triumph—"THE ALDINE." "THE ALDINE," while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of "THE ALDINE" will be most appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, "THE ALDINE" is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides!

The national feature of "THE ALDINE" must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While "THE ALDINE" is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art. Its mission is to cultivate a broad and appreciative art-taste, one that will discriminate only on grounds of intrinsic merit. Thus, while placing before the patrons of "THE ALDINE," as a leading characteristic, the productions of the most noted American artists, attention will always be given to specimens from foreign masters, giving subscribers all the pleasure and instruction obtainable from home or foreign sources.

The artistic illustration of American scenery, original with "THE ALDINE," is an important feature, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the satisfactory treatment of details than can be afforded by any inferior page. The judicious intersperson of landscape, marine, figure and animal subjects, sustain an unabated interest, impossible where the scope of the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject. The literature of "THE ALDINE" is a light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic features, with only such technical disquisition as do not interfere with the popular interest of the work.

PREMIUM FOR 1875.

Every subscriber for 1875 will receive a beautiful portrait, in oil colors, of the same noble dog whose picture in a former issue attracted so much attention.

"Man's Unselfish Friend"

will be welcome in every home. Everybody loves such a dog, and the portrait is executed so true to the life, that it seems the veritable presence of the animal itself. The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage tells that his own Newfoundland dog (the finest in Brooklyn) barks at it! Although so natural, no one who sees this premium chromo will have the slightest fear of being bitten.

Besides the chromo, every advance subscriber to "THE ALDINE" for 1875 is constituted a member, and entitled to all the privileges of

THE ALDINE ART UNION.

The Union owns the originals of all "THE ALDINE" pictures, which, with other paintings and engravings, are to be distributed among the members. To every series of 5,000 subscribers, 160 different pieces, valued at over $2,500 are distributed as soon as the series is full, and the awards of each series as made, are to be published in the next succeeding issue of "THE ALDINE." This feature only applies to subscribers who pay for one year in advance. Full particulars in circular sent on application enclosing a stamp.

TERMS.

One Subscription, entitling to THE ALDINE one year, the Chromo and the Art Union, $6.00 Per Annum, In Advance.

(No charge for postage.)

Specimen Copies of THE ALDINE, 50 Cents

"THE ALDINE" will, hereafter, be obtainable by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rates; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of JAMES SUTTON President.

CANVASSERS WANTED.

AYER'S

Cherry Pectoral!

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of humanity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

AYER'S

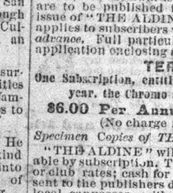
HAIR VIGOR!

—FOR—

RESTORING GRAY HAIR

—TO ITS—

Natural Vitality and Color!



Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
